CONSOLIDATION FACTS

TRUSTEES ANSWER QUESTIONS PROPOUNDED BY TROPICO COMMITTEE

In reply to a committee consisting of Norton C. Wells, W. G. Black and Edward M. Shipman, representing the Tropico-Glendale consolidation faction, the Glendale city trustees have prepared the following regarding certain conditions should the two cities consolidate:

To Messrs. Norton C. Wells, W. G. Black and Edward M. Shipman, Committee.

Gentlemen:

In compliance with your request as set forth in a series of questions submitted to us in regard to the policy of the City of Glendale as affecting the Tropico District should the consolidation of the Cities of Glendale and Tropico be brought about, we respectfully submit the following statements:

What would be your attitude toward proportionate representation on all governing boards?

The Tropico District would be entitled to proportionate representation upon all governing boards, and in the City employment. This is the policy of the City of Glendale in the present boundaries, and the Board would do all in its power to continue this policy in the consolidated city.

Will the City of Tropico be obligated to carry any of the bonded indebtedness of the City of Glendale?

Under the consolidation election proceedings, the bonded debt of the two cities would not be affected in any way by the consolidation. The City of Tropico would continue to carry its own bonded indebtedness, which we understand amounts to $22,500.00. The present territory of Glendale would continue to carry its own bonded indebtedness. The amount of this which is paid out of taxes amounts to $39,125.00. In addition to this there are $330,000.00 bonds of the Public Service Department which are being entirely paid by that Department.

Is the City of Glendale bonded to its full bonding capacity?

The present assessed valuation of Glendale is $5,504,381.00, and the bonding capacity is $825,617.00 which is more than twice the amount of outstanding bonds.

What is the tax rate in the City of Glendale and what is the estimated yearly income?

The Glendale City tax rate for the present year is

$1.15 in the original limit
1.14 in district first annexed
1.12 in recently annexed district.

The estimated amount to be raised by taxes during the present year for the general fund is $54,152.48.

What procedure is now followed in the collection of taxes and in case of consolidation is any change contemplated?

In the event of consolidation, we are not now ready to decide as to whether assessing and tax collecting will be taken care of by the county as is now done in the City of Tropico, or whether we will perform this service locally, as is done at the present time in the City of Glendale. If, however, the latter plan is pursued, arrangements will be made for payment of the taxes for the Tropico District at the present Tropico City Hall.

What economies would be effected by the consolidation of the two city governments?

In the event of consolidation, the elimination of most of the expense of the Tropico City government will permit a much larger amount of money to be put into street repairs, fire and police protection and other service vital to the welfare of the general public in that district.

In what proportion is the funds of the City of Glendale distributed?

Glendale has a definite plan for distribution of funds as set forth in budget adopted by Board of Trustees under which funds are distributed to the various departments as

General Administration	$14,716.71
Tax Collecting, not including next year's assessing	1,430.00
Street Maintenance	12,500.00
Police	10,152.00
Fire Protection	4,579.43
Health and Sanitation	5,281.70
Forestry	3,191.25
Building Inspection	1,243.00
Street Lighting	7,819.60
Flood Protection	500.00
Charity and Welfare	250.00
	$61,763.69

NOTE: The difference between the total amount appropriated to the various departments in the budget ($61,763.69) and the estimated income from taxation as shown above ($54,152.48) will be made up by receipts from fines, fees, licenses, etc.,

MRS. E. E. ANDROSS

WELL KNOWN AND LOVED WOMAN LAID TO REST IN FOREST LAWN

Mrs. Sophie P. Andross, deceased wife of Pastor Elmer E. Andross, president of the Pacific Union Conference Seventh Day Adventists, who died at their home, 1409 Hawthorne street, Glendale, last Saturday morning, was laid to rest in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Tropico, yesterday afternoon after appropriate services in the Glendale First Methodist church, where many relatives and friends gathered to do honor to her memory.

Pastor E. W. Farnsworth, of St. Helena, Cal., in giving the sermon of the hour, emphasized the thought that the hope of the resurrection at the coming of Christ is the Christian's polar star. "Take from the Bible the hope which clusters about the coming of our Lord, and it is a dead book," he said. "Let us settle our faith upon God's sure Word, which tells us, 'Marvel not at this, for the hour is coming in which all that are in their graves shall hear His voice, and shall come forth, they that have done good unto the resurrection of life, and they that have done evil unto the resurrection of damnation.'"

To the sorrowing ones the speaker brought the precious assurance of Isaiah 25:8, that Christ "will swallow up death in victory; and the Lord God will wipe away tears from off all faces; and the rebuke of His people shall he take away from off all the earth; for the Lord had spoken it."

Pastor Farnsworth then painted a pen picture of the beautiful new earth, into which death and sorrow never shall enter, where there will be no more sad partings and tears, no more gray hairs, no more infirmities. God assures us, he continued, "Behold, I create new heavens, and a new earth, and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind." "And they shall build houses, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them. They shall not build and another inhabit; they shall not plant, and another eat; for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands."

Pastor G. W. Reaser, field secretary of the Pacific Union Conference, in giving a sketch of Mrs. Andross' life, told of her devotion to her family, of her untiring labors to win others to Christ, and of her great patience. He spoke also of the warm hospitality of her aged parents, Aaron and Samaria Miller, of Milton, Ore., with whom he became acquainted in 1898.

Mrs. Andross was born at Windsor, near Healdsburg, Cal., March 25, 1869. Her parents attended the second series of Seventh-Day Adventist meetings held on the Pacific Coast, conducted by Pastors J. N. Loughborough and D. T. Bourdeau. Her father became an Adventist just before her birth, and her mother soon afterward.

When Mrs. Andross was two and a

REVENUE BILL FACES FIGHT

$2,415,000,000 MEASURE PASSED BY SENATE AWAITS VIOLENT ATTACKS IN CONFERENCE TODAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, September 11.—The two billion, four hundred fifteen million dollar revenue bill passed by the Senate awaits the opening of a long struggle in conference today, having been so changed by the Senate as to bear only a slight resemblance to the measure created by the House. The bill will be made the object of violent attacks by members of the lower branch, while it is probable that the conferees will return it to both houses in much the same form as it now stands. There will be a lively fight against the measure led by men who think wealth should pay more than the bill demands.

AN APPEAL TO ENGLISHMEN

The British Recruiting station under the direction of Capt. Walter Shaw is now permanently established in Los Angeles and has offices in the San Fernando building, corner Fourth and Main streets. All British, Canadians, Australians, etc., between the ages of 18 and 50 years are earnestly requested to make application at the above office with a view to joining either the English or Canadian army. They will be sent free of expense to Canada or to England according to which army they join. The period of enlistment is for the war, after which they will be given transportation to the point from which they came. Dependence allowance is granted for their families and dependents and in addition the American Red Cross has undertaken to help financially. It is the duty of any Britisher who is physically fit to come forward and do his bit in this great and terrible war and so help to bring it to a successful termination as soon as possible.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell joined a jolly family party which gave their brother, Dr. Mat Campbell of Los Angeles, a complete surprise Monday evening, the occasion being his birthday anniversary. The delightful dinner party had been arranged by Mrs. Campbell and on returning from a call Dr. Campbell found fifteen members of his immediate family assembled at the dinner table. It is not often that a surprise is carried out so completely and successfully as on this occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell and family spent the day at Redondo Beach, returning in time to participate in the surprise.

SOLVING WAR PROBLEM

GLENDALE UNION HIGH SCHOOL OFFERS INTENSIVE COURSE IN STENOGRAPHY

Our men are being called to the colors from the marts of trade, the factory office, the railroad headquarters, the department store, numerous positions from the shipping clerk to the highest officer.

Who will take these positions, left vacant?

Never in the history of our country was the demand for skilled shorthand writers and typists greater.

To aid in meeting this shortage of business help, the Commercial Department of the Glendale Union High School has added a course of intensive work in Stenography, which will equip the mature student within a school year.

This work will be offered in the morning. This will enable those who have to work during the afternoon to obtain this special offering.

We are informed by Mr. O. C. Joy, who is the Director of Business Training, that this work is placed in competent hands and those who finish the work satisfactorily will have no difficulty in obtaining positions. It may be well to add that the commercial students who finished the work in June are located in good positions.

This work is open to mature young people, post graduates and seniors. No charge for tuition, of course.

Those desiring this work will find Mr. Joy in room 120 in the Domestic Arts Building. Enroll now.

CARTER-BURGESON NUPTIALS

The second romance which has developed during the last year in the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly, culminated on Monday evening when Miss Hulda Burgeson, who has served Mrs. Braly so efficiently as cook the last year, was united in marriage to Mr. Jonathan Carter of Los Angeles, Rev. Hedberg officiating.

The romance has been watched with great interest by the Braly household and the happy termination was a source of satisfaction to all friends of the couple.

The wedding, which was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Braly, was held at the home of E. L. Holmquist, 800 Fifth avenue, Los Angeles, one of the prominent Swedish families of Los Angeles. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the Swedish Baptist church, of which Mr. and Mrs. Holmquist and Miss Burgeson are members. Preceding the ceremony and later beautiful music was rendered under the direction of the well-known musical director and composer, Prof. Ridderhof, Mendelssohn's Wedding March and the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin being among the gems.

There were about fifty guests present. The bride came from Sweden about six years ago and has been with Mrs. Braly about a year.

Mr. Carter is a young American who has already with his father and brothers acquired large holdings of land in Utah.

The young couple will reside on their ranch of 2000 acres at Alberta, Utah, about 35 miles from Salt Lake. They left after the ceremony in the groom's auto for various beach points.

MRS. CAMPBELL GOES NORTH

Mrs. Arthur Campbell of North Glendale left Tuesday for San Francisco, joining her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McPeak of Los Angeles, and her sister, Mrs. McGahie, formerly Miss Louise McPeak, in a motor trip to that city. Mrs. McGahie has been the guest of her father for the past month, spending a week with Mrs. Daniel Campbell at Coronado.

Mrs. Campbell will leave her little daughters, Mary and Margaret, with Mrs. Daniel Campbell during her absence. Mrs. Campbell hopes that the change of climate will be of benefit, as she is a sufferer from hay fever.

THE USES OF THE LIBERTY LOAN

It is a mistaken notion that all of the money raised by the sale of the Liberty Loan Bonds which is to be used for war purposes will be an eventual loss to the United States and its people; that it is all to be spent for things used up in war or useless except for purposes of war. It is well to remember that a great deal of the monty raised by the sale of Liberty Loan Bonds is to be invested in things that will be of great use and value to the nation when peace shall be declared.

One thing that most people realize will be of value is that it is going to put this nation in a state of preparedness. While it is hoped and believed that the end of this war will be the ending of all great wars it will be a valuable thing to America to find herself at its close prepared to enforce the just decrees of peace. There may be a twilight zone between the close of this war and the establishment of peace all over the world and preparedness will place America in a position to have that voice in the world affairs that this nation os worthy of. We know that voice will be for peace and justice and freedom.

Millions are to be spent in the construction of merchant ships and these, at least those that escape destruction in war, will be a valuable investment. There will be a tremendous demand for merchant ships when peace comes and, whether the United States continues to own and operate this merchant marine or whether the ships are sold to private individuals, the money invested in them by the United States will be no loss to the nation. It may be a great gain to it. In the revival of foreign commerce, in the contest for foreign markets, the United States will no longer be at the mercy of foreign ship owners. We can do our own carrying trade and our commerce will have a fair chance in the foreign markets.

Billions of this money raised by the sale of Liberty Loan Bonds have been and are to be loaned to those European nations engaged in war with Germany. This is no expenditure without return. It is an investment and it is an investment that no one will say is insecure. It will not only bring in a return in interest and a return of the principal when due, but it has brought to us a regard and friendship with those nations the value of which in dollars cannot be estimated.

The war is going to be expensive; it is going to call for sacrifices on the part of the nation and on the part of the individuals composing the nation. Much wealth is going to be shot out of the mouths of guns and cannons and much is going to be sunk at sea, but all of the money used for war purposes is not going to be a financial loss to the nation. America will emerge from the war not only with her honor and greatness and power increased, but she will emerge better fitted for the struggles of commerce when peace comes and much of the money spent for war purposes will be equally valuable if not more valuable in time of peace.

TRACK AND FIELD MEETS AT CANTONMENTS

World sports records may be broken by drafted soldiers of the new National Army in cantonment camps throughout the country this fall. Chairman Raymond D. Fosdick of the War Department Commission on Training Camp Activities hopes to bring out sport phenoms of many kinds whose lights might have been hidden by the bushel of private life as long as they lived if it hadn't been for the war.

"The great trouble with college athletics," said Fosdick to-day, "is that they develop a few men intensively and the many not at all.

"The draft men's training is of course, compulsory. The best in every man will be brought out. And when you consider that none of the 687,000 is accepted unless he is physically perfect, which is not true of the raw material college athletics has to choose from. it is not unreasonable to expect great things of them on track and field."

One of the greatest programs of sports and athletics that America has ever seen is expected to develop between cantonment camp teams, particularly those close together in the south, this fall and winter.

"No set program of inter-camp contests has been arranged," said Fosdick, "but the boys will be allowed to develop their own football, baseball, track and field teams for inter-camp and intra-camp meets."

THE MOTOR ON THE FARM

The horse is losing another of his jobs. Even the inter-tilling of cultivated crops is now coming to be done by a motor-driven cultivator. Great strides have been made in the perfecting of such machines during the past year.

As wages for farm labor and feed for horses go up in price, motor power on the farm becomes more and more important. The Committee on Resources and Food Supply of the State Council of Defense has been notified by the University of California College of Agriculture that at the Short Course for Farmers in the operation, repair, and management of gas tractors, to be held at the University Farm at Davis from November 5 to 15, special demonstrations will be given of the use of motor-cultivators. The machines used, which will be as large as the largest horse implement, will be pulled or pushed by a small tractor unit, built in as a part of the machine, the machine being provided also with equipment for seeding and planting. A large number of machines of this new type are being tried out in the Middle West, and the farmers are pleased with the ease with which they are handled and the economies they effect.

FOOD CONSERVATION CAMPAIGN IN SCHOOLS

Twenty-two thousand copies of the home canning and drying manuals of the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, which will give $5,000 in prizes for the best exhibits of canned vegetables, have been sent to superintendents of public schools and Indian schools in various parts of the country.

Carrying the food conservation campaign into the schools was agreed upon at conferences between Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the Commission, P. P. Claxton, federal commissioner of education, and Cato Sells, commissioner of Indian affairs.

"A great deal can be accomplished in food conservation with the aid of the school children," declared President Pack, "just as hundred of thousands of vegetable gardens were planted by pupils early in the spring. Our bulletins on canning and drying fruits and vegetables will be given to the pupils with instructions that they are to take them into their homes so that their mothers and sisters will be benefited by the helpful hints in these manuals in their canning work. We plan to send many thousands more of those popular buletins to other schools throughout the country."

I LOVE YOU, CALIFORNIA

Words by F. B. Silverwood
Music by A. A. Frankenstein

I love you, California,
You're the greatest state of all;
I love you in the winter,
Summer, spring, and in the fall.
I love your fertile valleys;
Your dear mountains I adore.
I love your grand old ocean
And I love her rugged shore.

Chorus

Where the snow crowned golden Sierras
Keep their watch o'er the valleys bloom,
It is there I would be in the land by the sea,
Every breeze bearing rich perfume.
It is here nature gives of her rarest,
It is Home, Sweet Home to me.
And I know when I die I shall breathe my last sigh
For my sunny California.

I love your redwood forests—
Love your fields of yellow grain.
I love your summer breezes
And I love your winter rain.
I love you, land of flowers,
Land of honey, fruit and wine.
I love you, California,
You have won this heart of mine.

I love your old gray missions—
Love your vineyards stretching far.
I love you, California,
With your Golden Gate ajar.
I love your purple sunsets,
Love your skies of azure blue.
I love you, California,
I just can't help loving you.

I love you, Catalina,
You are very dear to me.
I love you, Tamalpais,
And I love Yosemite.
I love you, Land of Sunshine,
Half your beauties are untold;
I loved you in my childhood
And I'll love you when I'm old.

In his new book on Mr. Lloyd-George, Mr. Frank Dilnot gives one or two instances of the premier's gift for repartee. "What do my opponents really want?" he asked in the course of one speech, to which a husky voice broke in, "What I want is a change of government." "No," retorted Mr. Lloyd-George; "what you really want is a change of drink." On another occasion he had begun a sentence with the words, "I am here," when an opponent in the crowd shouted, "So am I." "Yes," said Mr. Lloyd-George, "but you are not all there."

PELLEY'S PUNCH

By W. L. C., One of the Bunch

Of all the drinks that stay a thirst
There's none so fine as Pelley's.
His is the punch
Which wins the Bunch—
That solace made at Pelley's.

When to or from the Palace Grand
You with your girl are faring,
Just take this hunch:
"Try Pelley's punch,"
If you for her be caring.

That ruby drinks and ruby lips
Were made for one another.
"Try Pelley's punch!"
Just ask the Bunch—
They recommend no other.

The foregoing effusion proves the inspiration of a couple of glasses of Pelley's wild-cherry-ginger-ale-nectar punch. Another large cooler of it was generously donated by its patriotic maker to the Seventh District Exemption Board, the doctors, clerks and examinees who spent a very warm, dry time working in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce yesterday. That was the busiest holiday ever, and it also proved a really and truly "Admission Day" to many a young hero who may find fame "somewhere in France." So mote it be.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Ferguson and daughter Miss Esther Ferguson, 326 Everett street, who were members of the Glendale colony at Ocean Park last week, returned home Monday.

The Evening News has for sale a great variety of small pencil tablets at 1 cent each. The greatest bargain, however, is the 1917 city directory with a map of Glendale, 50c.

Miss Lillian Schick of 811 North Central avenue, Tropico, entered the Los Angeles Normal School on Monday. Miss Schick is a graduate of the class of '17 of the Glendale Union High School.

Thomas Hezmalhalch of Monrovia has been visiting his sons, Charles and Alfred, for a few days. Mr. Hezmalhalch was one of the early residents of Glendale and has many friends here.

Mrs. Percy R. Davis, Apartment 38 of the Flower apartments, 1206½ West Broadway, answered the notice in yesterday's Evening News, saying that she is qualified and willing to do public typewriting. Are there others?

Mrs. Geo. Ward, 222 West Third street, and her sister, Mrs. Mary Turner, of 542 South Verdugo road, are at Redondo Beach of the past week. They were joined for the week-end by Mr. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Layton, 325 East Colorado street, accompanied by Miss Beulah Layton and Mr. Layton's father, Louis M. Layton, motored up Monday from Hermosa Beach, where they have been the past month. They are returning Tuesday and will be at Hermosa for another week.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Congregational Church will be held Friday, September 14, at one o'clock at the church. As there are five quilts to be tied, as many ladies as possible are requested to come at nine a. m. and bring their lunch. As this is the first meeting after the vacation, a large attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Malley and daughter Grace, of 1311 Milford street, have just returned from a motor trip which took them 1200 miles. They visited San Francisco, Berkeley and other interesting points. The trip was taken in a leisurely fashion, stopping whenever the inclination seized them. The trip was made in a new Ford, and throughout the entire trip no trouble of any sort was experienced.

It is with regret that the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Blue and family from Glendale is announced. Mr. Blue has accepted a position in San Francisco and will remove very shortly to that city. Mr. and Mrs. Blue have been residents of Glendale for eleven years, residing for the last three years at 1632 Fairmont avenue. Mr. Blue will leave Wednesday for San Francisco and Mrs. Blue, with Dugald, Mary and Edgar, will follow later.

A jolly camping party has been enjoying an outing in Santa Monica Canyon the past week. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hezmalhalch and children, Lynette, Phillip and Everett of 317 Belmont street, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lord and son Edward, 512 Cedar street, and Miss Daisy A. Lankford, also of 512 Cedar street. They report a most delightful time, in fact such a good time that some of the party went back and stayed over Monday's holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery, 117 South Kenwood, will return Tuesday from Ocean Park. Mrs. Emery's many friends will be glad to know that she comes back much benefited by her stay at the beach. Mr. Emery's family, who have been enjoying the outing with their parents, returned Monday. They report a most delightful stay at Ocean Park, where they had a cottage. The large Glendale contingent who spent the week preceding the opening of school at that popular beach report a most delightful time, enjoying the bathing, fishing, and other equally popular amusements.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Evans and little daughter Katherine have gone to Hermosa Beach, where they will spend the remainder of the month of September.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Newell, 142 West Eulalia street, Tropico, have returned from Hermosa Beach, where they have been enjoying a week's outing. They report a most delightful time, fishing and enjoying all the usual beach amusements. During the week they entertained Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lord and Miss Dorinda Haviland for several days.

Mrs. E. S. Andrews, 201 North Maryland street, will be the hostess on Wednesday to the Sterling, Whiteside county, Ill., club. This club, which is composed of ladies, all former residents of that county, meets on the second Wednesdays of each month at the homes of the various members. These reunions are most enjoyable, as the members are school mates and old friends.

Mrs. E. J. Cunningham and her boys Glenn and Ralph and her niece, Miss Lillian Jennings, who have been spending the summer at Santa Monica and Culver City, will return to Glendale Tuesday. Mrs. Cunningham has been meeting her music pupils once a week during the summer, but will take up her residence permanently at 330 Orange street on Tuesday, where she will be at home to her friends.

Mrs. U. F. Newlin and children, Mary-Lois and Frederick, and her sister, Mrs. W. J. Gray, returned Monday from a delightful two months' stay at Coronado. Mr. and Mrs. Newlin formerly lived at Coronado, where they still own their home, and they report a most enjoyable time at their old home. The many friends of Mrs. Newlin will be pleased to know that she returns much improved in health. The party find Glendale rather warm these September days after the cool weather they experienced this summer.

MORE MAGNIFICENT

There are now in the Chamber of Commerce window four orange-cling peaches which make those boasted lemon-clings look quite inferior. These are 12 inches in circumference and the average weight is 12 ounces. They look more like apples than peaches in size. They were grown in the yard of Mr. Thos. D. Ogg, No. 149 South Kenwood street.

The Chamber of Commerce would like to keep a record of the largest and finest fruit produced in or near Glendale. Has any one else a peach that will surpass these royal orange-clings? If so, why not exhibit it for the glory of Glendale?

HOMEOPATHIC DOSES OF NEW THOUGHT

(From Mrs. Becker's lecture)

"New Thought is not wholly devotional; with us every day is the Lord's Day. We actually try to do what we pray.

"Truth is eternally new and everlastingly old.

"It takes as much inspiration to read the Bible as to write it.

"You must understand the symbols of the Bible first. Water is always a symbol of mind, while sea stands for the universal mind.

"I could never understand why people should be absolutely nothing (so meek and lowly) to be spiritual, as has been taught. Why should God have all the imbeciles and the Devil the smart ones?

"The future will bring forth a higher grade of spiritual beings. For one thing, children are not going to be taught fear.

"In the past, education has too many times meant memorizing; it should mean the power to comprehend quickly.

"The next fifty years after this war is over will bring forth infinitely more than any one hundred years of the past.

"We believe actually in immortality. We know there is a future.

"Everything one overcomes opens up the opportunity for further mastery."

The services Sunday were especially full of good things. We have a splendid addition to our working force. Mr. H. M. Pfieffer, a resident of Glendale, has taken the class of older boys in the Sunday School. He follows this with a morning service for adults at 11 o'clock.

Next Wednesday at 8 o'clock there is to be a Bible class at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Carmack, 715 North Central avenue. Mr. Pfeiffer will conduct this meeting, having for his subject the 34th chapter of Ezekiel. Everybody welcome.

The evening service included a wonderfully sweet song entitled "The Garden of the Soul," composed and sung by Mrs. J. J. Freeman. Miss Helene Morgan accompanied the singer and also played a very pretty musical selection in a most delightful manner.

JACK AND THE BEANSTALK

The gigantic half million dollar Fox standard production is coming to the Palace Grand Theatre for two days, Wednesday and Thursday, September 12 and 13. This picture is proclaimed to be the greatest of all time. A giant 8 feet, 5 inches tall, 1300 children, castles and walled cities and many other features make the old fairy tale very realistic. You can never forget the old story you used to love as a child.

Synopsis

"Once upon a time" is the way all good fairy-tales begin. The story of "Jack and the Beanstalk" is just about the best fairy-tale ever written. Therefore it has to begin with "once upon a time," even when one is telling the story of the big photoplay spectacle that William Fox has produced under the direction of C. M. and S. A. Franklin.

So here goes:

Once upon a time there lived a little boy named Jack (Francis Carpenter) who was very poor. He was so poor, in fact, that his mother (Eleanor Washington) told him one day that they should have to sell the old cow which had been their friend for a long number of years.

So Jack took the cow to market, but he was not glad to do it. On his way to the city he met a butcher who needed some fresh meat for the people who bought of him. He knew that Jack's cow would make delicious eating, so he told Jack he'd buy the animal for a handful of beans.

Just then a good fairy came down to earth, lit on Jack's shoulder, and whispered in his ear:

"Take the beans."

So Jack took them and gave the cow to the butcher. Of course Jack's mother was very very angry when she saw what her son had done. So she threw the beans out of the window and sent Jack to bed without his supper.

The Beanstalk Grows

But next morning, when they woke up, they found that the beans had taken root and grown over night. From the place where Jack's mother had thrown them they had sprouted and a big, heavy beanstalk was shooting right up out of the ground. Its top was far above the clouds. Nobody could see it. Jack climbed up to explore.

When he got to the top, Jack found a great big plain, with the walls of an enormous city in full view. So he went to the city and told them who he was. A good fairy came to him again and told him about a bad old Giant who lived in a castle nearby, and said that Jack ought to go and kill the Giant (Jim Tarver) because the Giant had killed Jack's father many years before.

So the people in the city all shouted: "Here is Jack the Giant Killer."

That night the boy went to the big fellow's castle and the Giant's wife (Vera Lewis) hid him in a copper kettle. When the Giant came home he thought that he smelt fish, but his wife said that it was the new captives that he had brought along for his dinner.

Jack managed to escape, taking with him a hen which laid eggs whenever you told her to.

Jack Returns to the City

Next day Jack went back to the city and was received by the King (Carmen Derue). Jack immediately fell in love with the Princess (Virginia Lee Corbin). But the Giant had learned about the little fellow's meddling with his affairs, and he came to the city, captured the Princess, and took her off to his castle.

Then Jack took command of the King's armies and led them against the Giant. They had a hard time of it, and lots of people got hurt, but they finally injured the Giant and rescued the Princess. Then Jack took her in his arms and began running as fast as he could, and the Giant went running after him.

And when they got to the top of the beanstalk, Jack went down it, carrying the Princess. And the Giant came following after him. But Jack reached the bottom when the Giant was just about half-way down. So he rushed to the wood-pile, seized an axe, and began chopping. And when the Giant was a few hundred feet above the ground the whole thing came toppling over and the big man fell to the ground, and Jack rushed in and slew him with his dagger.

So then Jack had the Princess and lots of money, and was quite contented. And they all lived happily ever after.

THE STRATEGY OF BLINKERS

Blinkers was not a beauty, either in face or figure. All his pals wondered, therefore, what he would appear as at the Funnyboys' fancy dress ball. The night arrived. Hamlet leaned sadly against the wall, while William the Conqueror threw bitter glances at a crowd at the other end of the room.

"What ho, Bill!" cried Oliver Cromwell, arriving late; "feeling seedy, old man?"

"We all are," growled Bill the First. "Blinkers has done us in the eye after all."

"Blinkers! How?"

"He's come as a bargain marked down to $4.98," croaked the conqueror, "and every blessed girl in the place is fighting to get near him."

How many other things might be tolerated in peace and left to conscience, had we but charity, and were it not the chief stronghold of our hypocrisy to be ever judging one another.—John Milton.

STUFFED PEARS, CONDE

Pare and cut six pears in halves; take out the cores, but leave the stems in place on one half of each pear. Simmer the pears in a cup of sugar and a cup of water until tender. Have ready a dozen blanched almonds chopped fine; mix these through half a cup of marmalade, pineapple or orange-and-pineapple is, either of them, good. Apple, peach or apricot are not as common, perhaps, but are good for this dish. Fill the open space in the half-pears with the nut preparation and put corresponding halves together. Dispose the pears on a border (shaped with two spoons) of cooked rice. Fill the center with more of the marmalade. Serve whipped cream or mock cream in a dish. The rice may be plain, boiled rice, or rice cooked in milk, with or without the addition of two tablespoonfuls of sugar, an egg-yolk, and one-fourth a cup of the marmalade.

Do all the good you can and no harm when you can not do good.

AN EMERGENCY BIBLE

Mr. Tompkins was obliged to stop overnight at a small country hotel, relates the Western Christian Advocate. He was shown to his room by the one boy the place afforded, a colored lad.

"I'm glad there's a rope here in case of fire," commented Mr. Tompkins as he surveyed the room; "but what's the idea of putting a Bible in the room in such a prominent place?"

"Dat am intended for use, sah," replied the boy, "in case de fire am too far advanced foh yo' to make yo' escape, sah."

A man traveling in Maine met a middle-aged farmer, who said his father, ninety years old, was still on the farm where he was born. "Ninety years old, eh?" "Yep, Pop is close to ninety." "Is his health good?" "'Taint much now. He's been complainin' for a few months back." "What's the matter with him?" "I dunno; sometimes I think farmin' don't agree with him."—Exchange.

RED CROSS IN CHINA

American residents in China are organizing for war relief work in the Far East and to aid American troops in France through the American Red Cross, according to cable advices just received by the Red Cross War Council. At Shanghai the organization of a Red Cross Chapter has been undertaken by Consul-General Thomas Sammons, while American Consuls in other Chinese cities are also aiding the Red Cross.

To begin Red Cross work in Shanghai, Consul-General Sammons reports, $3,130 was raised in a concert among the American residents. This money is to be used in purchasing raw materials for the Shanghai Americans War Relief Society, which is making hospital supplies under Red Cross direction.

A contribution of $578.67 from the American residents of Amoy, China, has also just been received by the War Council through the American Consul stationed there. This sum was raised by voluntary subscription during "Red Cross week," from June 25th to July 4th, as the contribution of Americans in Amoy, to the War Fund of the Red Cross.

In forwarding the gift, Consul Gower said:

"When it is considered that the Amoy community is composed very largely of missionaries who receive small salaries and find it difficult to make ends meet with the present exchange, I believe that this contribution represents a splendid expression of the loyalty of Amoy Americans in the present war, and their desire to do their part in a financial way in aiding the Red Cross."

12,000 CAR TICKETS BUY ONE CORK LEG IN LONDON

LONDON, Aug. 20 (By Mail)—London school girls have discovered a connection between old street car tickets and cork legs for legless soldiers. Or rather, they have found a relationship between one cork leg and twelve thousand tickets. That number turned in at a London hospital buys a cork leg for a crippled Tommy and the girls are now picking them up off the sidewalks and begging them from passengers.

MOCK CREAM

Scald one pint of milk in a double boiler; stir two level teaspoonfuls of cornstarch with two or three tablespoonfuls of cold milk, then stir into the hot milk; let cook ten minutes; add one-fourth a teaspoonful of salt and two tablespoonfuls of sugar and let chill. Fold in the whites of two eggs.

WOMAN'S DRESS AND ADDRESS

What the Louisville Courier-Journal styles "the main matter," in this era of women's clubs, is phrased as follows:

"Your wife seems busy these days."

"Yes; she is to address a woman's club."

"Ah, working on her address?"

"No; on her dress."

"Aw, aw," said Snobleigh,—"it must be—aw—very unpleasant for you Americans to be—aw—governed by people whom you—aw—wouldn't awsk to dinner." "Oh, I don't know," said the American girl; "no more so that for you to be governed by people who wouldn't ask you to dinner."—Ladies' Home Journal.

A tourist, motoring in Ireland and wishing to go to Dublin, came to a point where two unmarked roads diverged. Stopping his car, he called to a native by the roadside, "Pat, which is the road to Dublin?" "How did you know my name was Pat?" "Oh, I guessed at it." "Well, you can guess the road to Dublin."

LESSON IN MANNERS

The lady was entertaining callers, when the company was startled by a noise like a load of coal being delivered simultaneously. It proved to be nothing but the small daughter of the hostess, who had hurried down stairs in this noisy fashion. The mother was amazed.

"Alice," she said severely, "you go back up stairs and see if you can't come down like a lady."

Alice went slowly up the steps. The guests listened involuntarily, but not a sound accompanied the child's descent. She appeared among them as noiselessly as a falling rose leaf.

"That was much better, "approved her mother. "You see you can come down stairs in a ladylike manner when you try."

"Yessum," said Alice. "I slid down the banister this time."—Cleveland Plaindealer.

OUR COUNTRY

"And for your country, boy, and for that Flag, never dream a dream but of serving her as she bids you, even though the service carry you through a thousand hells. No matter what happens to you, no matter who flatters you or abuses you, never look at another flag, never let a night pass but you pray God to bless that flag. Remember, boy, that behind officers and government, and people even, there is the Country Herself; your Country, and that you belong to Her as you belong to your own mother. Stand by her, boy, as you would stand by your mother."—Edward E. Hale.

the estimated amount of which is $7,611.21.

What disposition would be made of the funds derived from taxes in the City of Tropico?

In the event of consolidation the funds derived from the Tropico District would be distributed and used for the benefit of that district.

What is the policy of the Board with regard to maintenance and repair of streets?

The policy of the Board in regard to maintenance and repair of streets in the Tropico District would be the same as now pursued in the Glendale District.

The amount appropriated for this service in the Glendale budget for this year is $12,500.00, all of which is raised by general tax. This amount covers the general street maintenance and cleaning and the rebuilding of five miles of streets. The money derived from Tropico would be spent in the same proportion for the same work in the Tropico District and would maintain and clean the Tropico streets, and rebuild two miles of streets in the Tropico District in the same manner as has been done on Brand Boulevard, Kenwood Street, Louise Street and other streets in Glendale.

What plan is followed by the City of Glendale in the maintenance of shade trees?

It is the well-established policy of the City of Glendale that the parkway trees be trimmed and otherwise cared for by the Forestry Department; also to propagate and plant additional trees filling in the vacant places as rapidly as funds will permit. In pursuance of this plan, twelve hundred trees were planted and cared for last year. This plan will be continued until all of our thoroughfares are lined with shade trees. In the event of consolidation, this same policy would apply to the Tropico District and a proportionate amount of the funds devoted to this service would be spent in that district.

Is your experience in the cleaning of vacant lots such as to warrant a continuance of the same?

The City of Glendale has very successfully destroyed the weeds growing upon the vacant lots of the city for three successive years. We find this to be a very acceptable move, especially on the part of the resident property-holders. We also find very little objection to it from non-resident property-holders. All of our people seem to be agreed that it is necessary to have a general cleaning up of this kind once a year. We believe we can safely say that the practice will be continued.

Does the City of Glendale carry Workmen's Compensation Insurance?

The City of Glendale carries its own Workman's Compensation Insurance, having discontinued the State Compensation Insurance which was costing $1,362.00 per year. Glendale City Workman's Compensation Insurance Fund has been created. To this fund, monthly payments are made as follows:

Out of the General Fund by the Public Welfare Department the sum of $225.00 per month.

Out of the Public Service Department $75.00 per month.

These payments will continue until each of these departments have paid to this fund the sum of $3,000.00. All amounts withdrawn in payment of Workman's Compensation Insurance will be replaced at the rate of $75.00 per month, or less as the case may be, by the Department in which the workman for whom said amount was withdrawn is employed.

How would consolidation effect the Tropico Police and Fire Departments; the Tropico Library; the Tropico City Hall; the Tropico Municipal Playground?

In the event of consolidation, the present Police Departments of the two cities would be merged with adequate police service to each district.

The same applies to the Fire Department. The present fire engine is being paid for by the people of Tropico and its removal from its present location would not be considered.

The present Tropico City Hall would be maintained as it now is for a police and fire station. An office would be kept open for the transaction of city business.

The present library would be maintained as it has been and all funds raised for library purposes would be apportioned in accordance with the assessed valuation of the districts served by the respective libraries. All patrons would enjoy the facilities of both libraries.

We know of no reason why the present Tropico Playground Association should not be continued with full power to regulate and manage the playground in accordance with the desires of the Tropico District.

How would the consolidation affect the free collection and disposal of garbage?

The free disposal of garbage as at present prevailing in both cities would be continued.

What plans has the City of Glendale relative to the disposal of sewage?

The sewage disposal will ultimately require handling by both communities. No sewage from the Glendale District will be disposed of in Tropico.

What would be the attitude of Glendale toward the extending of its public utilities to Tropico?

The City of Glendale owns its own water and electric system. No city in the State of California which does not meet its interest payments by general tax enjoys as low rates for water and electricity as does the City of Glendale. And in the event of consolidation the extension of the water and electric systems of the City of Glendale into Tropico would result in a still further reduction in these extremely low rates for the whole territory.

What is the cost of street lighting in the City of Glendale?

The economy resulting from the extension of Glendale utilities to cover the Tropico territory, would be approximately $12,000.00 a year, which represents the net saving of the people of consolidation through this one department. Economy demands the extension of the water and electric systems throughout the whole of the consolidated territory. This must be financed by a bond issue, either upon the Tropico District, or upon the City as a whole. In either event, all interest and payment of bonds is borne by the Public Service Department out of its revenue.

Street Lighting costs in Glendale are the lowest in the State. One light standards cost 50c per month; lamps on brackets are charged at 65c per month, and the big five light standards at 75c per month. This includes all costs of operating, maintenance and repair. This cost is paid from general taxation.

Respectfully submitted,
BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE.

MRS. ANDROSS LAID TO REST

half years old, her parents moved to Milton. When 15 years of age she acted as organist for Pastor G. W. Colcord during his summer series of tent meetings, and the following season carried on the same work for Pastor H. W. Decker, at Summerville, Ore. During these latter meetings she met Mr. Andross, who at that time was attending college in preparation for his life work as a minister of the gospel. They were united in marriage at Milton, Ore., May 1, 1889.

The deceased received her early education in the public schools of Oregon, afterward attending Milton Academy. Later she became a student in the Bible training school in Oakland, Cal., preparatory to becoming a Bible worker. Under her faithful labors many souls gave themselves to God. In company with her husband she engaged in evangelistic work in Eastern Oregon and Washington until the autumn, when they removed to Southern California, locating first in San Diego, and later in Los Angeles. In June, 1894, they moved to Healdsburg, where Pastor Andross took charge of the Bible department of Healdsburg College. From 1896 to the spring of 1899 she labored with her husband in San Francisco, he as an evangelist, she as a Bible worker. They went to Great Britain in May, 1899, laboring during their stay there in London, Liverpool, Leicester and Watford. The damp climate brought upon Mrs. Andross an attack of bronchial pneumonia, from which she never fully recovered. They returned to America in March, 1908.

The immediate relatives who survive her are her husband, her son, Pastor Celian E. Andross, wife and child, and her second son, Elsworth E. Andross. Her father, now nearly 88 years of age, her mother, three brothers and one sister, with their families, reside at Milton, Ore. Her oldest brother recently spent four weeks with her, but felt compelled to leave before the end came, the military draft having taken his only son.

The scripture reading at the church was given by Pastor J. O. Corliss, and at the grave by Pastor J. L. McElhany, of Oakland, Cal. Pastor McElhany offered the opening prayer at the church, and Pastor C. E. Ford, of San Francisco, closed the service with prayer. Pastor G. A. Snyder, of Glendale, offered prayer at the grave. In opening the service Prof. George B. Miller rendered Schumann's "Traumerei" upon the pipe organ, and at the close of the service rendered Chopin's Funeral March.

A male quartette, consisting of Messrs. Gloyd Gardner, Earl Gardner, Myron Lysinger and Emerald Steen, rendered selections both at the church and at the cemetery. The pall bearers were Pastors W. F. Martin, of Riverside, J. Adams Stevens, of Santa Rosa; M. M. Hare, of Los Angeles; Clarence Santee, of Lodi; F. M. Burg, of Loma Linda, and M E. Cady, of Berkeley.

In the daily routine of life you ask of those with whom you come in contact both honesty and fairness of treatment.

More so, than ever, do you need such help during the sorrows of bereavement. Then, as at no other time, you ask and have a right to expect conscientious service—the kind "you" yourself would give were you able to do so.

You ask and expect an impressive service, free of needless expense, yet fitting the occasion.

In using Scovern-Letton-Frey Co. service either in our mortuary, at the church or in your own home, you will find all these requirements met—quietly, restfully and in good taste.
